

Cleary University is pleased to announce the speakers for the 2010 Livingston Economic Club Luncheon Series, which enters its seventh year this February. This year's line-up features three individuals who will explore a variety of topics.

Carl T. Camden, president and CEO of Kelly Services Inc., will kick off the 2010 series on Feb. 9. Michael Reagan, eldest child of President Ronald Reagan, author of "Twice Adopted" and host of a nationally-syndicated political radio show, will speak on May 12, while the 2010 series closes out Oct. 7 with Elizabeth Edwards, best-selling author of "Resilience" and "Saving Graces: Finding Solace and Strength from Friends and Strangers."

All luncheons will be held at the Cleary University Johnson Center on the Livingston campus. Doors open for networking at 11:30 a.m., followed by lunch at noon with the speeches commencing at 12:45 p.m.

Cleary University sponsors the Livingston Economic Club Speakers Luncheon Series as a service to our students and our community. The mission of the Livingston Economic Club is to enrich the Livingston County community by hosting speakers who can share a broad spectrum of social, political, intellectual, and cultural experiences.

For additional information on the LEC Speakers Luncheon Series, please contact Amanda Chaborek, Director of Communications and Community Relations at Cleary University at 517.548.3670, x5505 or via e-mail at lec@cleary.edu.

2010 LEC Speakers

Tuesday, Feb. 9 - Carl T. Camden

Carl T. Camden is president and chief executive officer of Kelly Services, Inc., a world leader in workforce management services and human resources solutions. He also serves on the company's board of directors. Kelly is a Fortune 500 company headquartered in Troy, Michigan. Mr. Camden holds an undergraduate degree in psychology and speech from Southwest Baptist College in Bolivar, Missouri, a graduate degree in clinical psychology and speech communication from Central Missouri State University, and a doctorate in communications from Ohio State University.

Wednesday, May 12 - Michael Reagan

Michael Reagan is the eldest child of President Ronald Reagan and Academy Award winning actress Jane Wyman. Reagan regularly appears on network television as a commentator and guest with multiple programs including The Today Show, Good Morning America, Nightline and on FOX News Channel. He was honored in 2006 as an electee to the board of trustees of Eureka College, President Reagan's Alma Mater. Reagan's weekly column is published in 300+ newspapers and he has authored multiple books including the best-selling autobiography, "On the Outside Looking In," "The Common Sense of An Uncommon Man: The Wit, Wisdom and Eternal Optimism of Ronald Reagan," and most recently, "Twice Adopted".

Thursday, Oct. 7 - Elizabeth Edwards

Dedicated to strengthening America's communities, Elizabeth Edwards works with causes that help provide equal opportunities for all school children. In 1996, Mrs. Edwards co-established the Wade Edwards Foundation and helped build a free computer lab - the Wade Edwards Learning Lab - for high school students in Raleigh. The Wade Edwards Foundation runs a statewide short fiction contest for North Carolina's high school juniors, awarding $10,000 a year in scholarships and grants to high school English programs. Mrs. Edwards remains active with the Parent Teacher Associations at her children's schools, as well as with a variety of charitable efforts, including fundraising for the March of Dimes benefit. Mrs. Edwards shares her experiences on the campaign trail in her memoir, "Saving Graces: Finding Solace and Strength from Friends and Strangers."
